

DFL launches new book club

The Duxbury Free Library is launching the Open Book Club, a drop-in book club that will meet on the second Monday of each month in the Setter Room. No registration is required; all adults are welcome to attend. Bring your own ready-to-eat dinner to enjoy during the discussion; the library will provide coffee and tea.

The first meeting of the Open Book Club will be on Monday, May 13 at 6:30 p.m. Circulation Department Librarian Denise Garvin will lead a discussion on award-winning author Chris Cleave's "Little Bee."

For more information please call Denise Garvin, Head of Circulation, at 781-934-2721 ext. 107 or email dgarvin@ocln.org.
